Jordan		30.04.2015	00:16:56	thanks for this. I just signed up for beginning curling at my local ice rink. I love shuffleboard, pool, and not running a lot. ;) Your site helped a ton! I had no idea on the lingo and am stoked to get going!
Kenneth Lapointe	Canada	21.02.2015	16:27:43	As a beginner this is an excellent instruction. Using animation and clear explanations is the best I've seen.

Simone	Deutschland	28.04.2014	08:59:36	Hallo Markus super tolle Animation, ich bin begeistert. Endlich versteh ich auch mal realistisch was mein Schatz immer erzählt wenn er von Hit and Roll spricht oder von den anderen Ausdrücken. Ich bin ziemlich neu beim Curling Sport und Trainiere mittlerweile auch wenn sich die Zeit findet. Um alles zu verstehen müsste man einen Computer im Hirn haben. Dank deiner Animationen wird es für mich leichter und vorstellbarer. DANKE, MERCI!
Jean Paul Richert	Allemagne	23.04.2014	23:52:10	Bonnes pierres demain, je verrai s'il est possible de suivre les résultats ici.

I have always enjoyed watching the game on TV but since I live in the desert, Las Vegas NV., I have never played it. I am a warm weather lover but think if I were to take up a winter game, it would be curling. Thank you for teaching me the basics so that I better understand what I will see soon. Don Eaves

Devin	Newport Beach,CA	19.10.2010	03:30:27	Hi! I really found your site helpful for an upcoming speech of mine about curling. This was my first experience with curling and I must say, I'm impressed with it as a sport. It's so polite, I love it! Thank you!
Jessie	Houston, Texas, USA	02.10.2010	22:36:32	This site has been very helpful for my students. I just want to say thank you. (I teach Physics and when we study vectors, I have my students resolve a curling shot into vectors and those vectors into their respective components to find the stone's total displacement.)
Liz		29.09.2010	04:43:16	Thanks for the introduction, I will be attending a curling workshop in Connecticut, USA this weekend and needed to learn the vocabulary and rules. Great webpage, able to manage and replay without problems. Thanks.

Ekkehard	Ger	12.04.2010	11:05:22	Vielen Dank! Vielen Dank für diese verständliche Seite. Endlich habe ich die Regeln verstanden und kann sie auch vermitteln. Das ist auch wichtig, denn wir haben bei uns im Hort ein Holz-Curling-Spiel das unsere Kinder sehr begeistert. Wir sind sogar soweit, dass wir auch eine Curling-Liga eingerichtet haben, die unsere Kinder sehr mögen. So richtig mit Spielplan und Tabelle. Zwar müssen wir bei einigen Dingen abstriche machen (etwa der Genauigkeit des Ziels) aber die kleinen Spieler nehmen das ziemlich gut hin. Letzlich bleibt, dass wir im Hort viele Curlingbegeisterte Kinder haben, die inzwischen mit Interesse diesen Sport verfolgen. Liebe Grüße Ekkehard
Martin	Deutschland	08.04.2010	19:49:43	Hallo, eine tolle Seite. Besonders die Erklärung der einzelnen Begriffe. Hatte von dieser Seite über Eurosport gehört, als ich dort die Curling-WM verfolgte. Ich hoffe die jungs schaffen noch den einzug in die Play offs

Unsere Frauen sind ja in diesem Jahr Weltmeister geworden und mal schauen, was unsere Herren in den nächsten Tagen noch zeigen, nach ihrem Sieg gestern über Canada.

Robert	Slovenia	05.03.2010	20:17:40	We just start to build first Curling club in Slovenia, and this web site help as a lot. For any additional information we will be very thankful.

Bob	Auckland, NZ	02.03.2010	10:55:22	Thank you for an informative clarification of a facinating sport
L Jones		02.03.2010	01:00:59	I remember watching the GB women's team win gold in 2002 and I have managed to watch part or all of the matches from Vancouver. I love this sport as much as I do green bowling. They are rather similar! I live in South West England where there is no curling sheet available. This is a pity as I am sure there is a lot of interest in this area.

Heidrun	Auckland, Neuseeland	02.03.2010	00:41:10	Hi, danke für die sehr informative Webside. Hatte in Deutschland auch nur zur Olypiade die Möglichkeit gehabt, Curling zu sehen. Faszinierender Sport. Schach kombiniert mit Billiard auf dem Eis. Leider habe ich immer noch nicht begriffen, wieso bei der Zählweise bei der Animation End Nr. 4 nur zwei rote Steine gewertet werden. Interessiert mich wirklich brennend. Ich hoffe, daß ich bei den nächsten Olympiade das Spiel noch besser verstehen kann. Heidrun
Barry Carden	Tulsa, Oklahoma	01.03.2010	04:46:06	I wish to congratulate the Canadian Womens Curling team for their outstanding performance during the recent Olympic competition. Although the team did not win Gold I wish to acknowledge their professionalism and proper, sportsmanlike demeanor during their final game with Sweden. There attitude and ability awakened in me a desire to learn more of the sport and have made a new FAN for their sport. I would only wish that there was a local facility in which I could participate in this interesting sport!! Thank you Canadian Ladies very much!!
Jim Nuchter	Montreal	28.02.2010	14:17:15	Very interesting
Maja Naef	Schweiz	28.02.2010	13:39:18	Danke für die tolle Spielanleitung. Tut mir leid für die deutsche Mannschaften, dass sie ohne Medaillen nach hause mussten.
Randy		28.02.2010	10:44:58	Very informative. Thanks for the lesson
Uwe	Monheim, Deutschland	28.02.2010	01:39:12	Hallo, bin grade über die Seite gestolpert (Link bei Wikipedia). Sehr schöne Arbeit, hat mir Dinge nähergebracht, die ich durchs Fernsehen nicht erfahren hätte, obwohl ich fast das ganze olympische Turnier verfolgt habe. Die klassischen Wintersportarten interessieren mich nicht sonderlich, habe vom Schnee bzw. Winter die Schnauze voll. Vom Curling aber kann ich gar nicht genug bekommen, daher nochmals Dank für die tolle Webseite! Uwe

Rhoda Burson		24.02.2010	17:14:00	I have a question - I've been watching the US Olympic teams, and something occurred that I didn't understand. When the score was 0 - 0, and it was the last rock being thrown in the end, they didn't try to land in the button to score - why not? couldn't they have landed there and scored? Thanks for the answer!
James Brown		24.02.2010	16:45:01	good site...informative

Stuart Hiley	Homewood, Illinois, USA	24.02.2010	06:02:12	Thank you for the very clear explanation of curling. I was a member of my sixth grade curling team in Wilmette, Illinois, USA back in 1974, but have not played since. I wish there was a curling facility near me now! Watching the olympics has reminded me of all the strategy involved!
Sharon Kantor		24.02.2010	05:01:51	My Name is Sharon and myself and my Husband have really gotten into Curling. The funny thing my Husband is NO sports person so i also love it so it's something that made us closer. Thanks can't wait till the next!

Peter Karlsmüller	D	23.02.2010	00:15:58	Sehr gut. Mein Tipp: Die Animationen auf der Startseite in zwei Gruppen anordnen. Links die Animationen zu Spielfeld, Regeln und Physik (Spielfeld/Rink, Pebble, Wischen, Zählweise, FGZ-Regel), rechts die Animationen zu den Abspielarten und "Shot"

bill		22.02.2010	22:55:52	been watching curling on TV. never played and didn't know how to score. Have played a lot of shuffle here in Florida. Thanks for the web sight it was a big help. Now the game is better to watch. Does the team need to stay on one side of the court? Does the same two people Throw the rock all the time?
rogers74	Switzerland	22.02.2010	21:30:11	wirklich eine tolle Seite...grosses Kompliment und vielen Dank für die Info's! sehe Curling vor allem an Olympia: HOPP SCHWIIZ!! weiter so, ist ein toller Sport!! gruss aus der Schweiz...roger
Thomas	Dayton, Ohio - USA	22.02.2010	20:58:26	Thanks. Good info. Watching the competition reveals most of the rules and playing considerations. However I want to know what causes the rock to actually curl. I know the ahow and why a baseball curves but that doesn't apply to the rock. Your info suggests the slower the pace, the more curl. I don't see any particular use a puptng a spin on the rock at delivery. The Pebbles info was entirely new for me and a key point.

Roger	WA State, USA	21.02.2010	22:34:37	I thought your site was very informative. Craig, all of that is covered in the links of this site. Thank you, so much for giving such a clear understanding of the game in such a short format!! 8-))!
Craig Willford		21.02.2010	22:05:53	I learned a lot. Thanks. As I watch the Olympics, I wonder what would happen if a Sweeper accidentally kicked a stone. Might you want to put in some descriptions on such issues and also on strategy?
Carol	Nebraska, USA	21.02.2010	07:04:51	Great review and teaching site! Sorry that Jay missed your section on scoring - it's very clear. I first watched curling at the Salt Lake City 2002 Olympics and am glad to see better TV coverage this year than what has been done previously carl molter		18.02.2010	19:05:46	Very helpful for someone new to this sport. A few ideas to help: the scoring section goes too fast and does not allow time to complete the reading before the examples start. Change the back button to a next button or add a next button so you can go to the next item easily.

Sarah Bauman		18.02.2010	18:24:22	I love the website, it's great explaining different techniques. But I was wondering, what the teeline means? That would be good to put on the website with an explanation of what it is.

Dennis Lafleur		29.01.2009	16:35:46	I have reviewed all of the animations and have found this to be an excellent site describing the basics of curling. I have found a few things that need attention. In the animation for Sweeping there are two rocks delivered instead of only one. Also in Canada we refer to the rings as the button, 4 foot, 8 foot and 12 foot for the outer ring. Not sure if that differs because of country. I will definately recommend this site to the new curlers in our club. Thank you for taking the time to build the site.

I must say it a shame that most of the USA has not had the chance to play this game. It is the ultimate!

Kaitlin LaPlante		28.03.2006	00:31:44	Hi, this page is great. Gene A. Dees	Albuquerque, New Mexico, USA	08.03.2006	21:38:01	Robb in Milwaukee has a good point. Maybe something about how the rock is thrown? Like are there circumstances where you kight want to put a spin on the rock? And one of my questions ... is the hack required to be on the center line and do you always have to throw from the center line postion? In bowling you can bowl from the right or left or any point in between but there is no "center line" marked like there is in curling.
Robb	Milwaukee, WI	08.03.2006	19:34:57	Excellent site with easy to understand graphics. A little more on the action of throwing the stone, etc., would be good for us beginners. Thanks!

dave	usa	07.03.2006	16:11:10	thanks for the lesson. i somehow got "hooked" on the intensity of the play at the olympics and was able to pick up some of the gist of the sport. you site filled in the gaps. i'll be looking for more competitions on tv in the future and will now better understand the strategies. thanks again
Gene A. Dees	Albuquerque, New Mexico, USA	07.03.2006	03:10:49	Interesting! I read further down to see what others had said. Most were impressed with your excellent site but, of course there are always some jerks that like to hit and run. One of these guys was griping about how "boring" curling was and what a waste of time your site is and that he "has a life". Well, must not be much of one for, if he were bored, then why spend that much time here bothering people? So ... if it bites that bad, why didn't he go do something more interesting? Keep up the good work. I enjoyed it.
Gene A. Dees	Albuquerque, New Mexico, USA	07.03.2006	03:01:08	Excellent site! However, I can see that it is going to take me some time to learn about curling.

Linnea Mueller		28.02.2006	22:58:00	Thank you for your web site. I teach Physical Education and I am going to implement curling into our classes. This is a very good resource.
Thom Emerson		28.02.2006	22:47:48	Enjoyed site. Thanks for the help. Seems when I watched some time ago, the curlers were actually spinning the stones as they were launched down the rink. Am I wrong? It's been quite awhile. Have already caught the Skills Championship on ESPN. I was a professional bowler @ 1 time so I understand the lack of respect your members have. Hope your sport continues to grow and there is more television coverage.
Brian		28.02.2006	14:27:00	Just wanted to let you know your site is very helpful for those that want to know more about Curling! I was not sure how the scoring went, but now understand plus finding out the "lingo" was great also. Thanks for this site!

For years I have been fascinated at the grace and beauty of curling whenever I came across it on TV, and loved watching it, but was frustrated at being unable to understand the scoring or strategy. Your site explains it so well and with such clear animated examples that I can't wait to see another match and finally be able to understand what's going on and how the scores are determined. Thank you, thank you, thank you!

Ann Gregory	Virginia (USA)	26.02.2006	21:48:08	I'm writing an editorial on the Olympics for our weekly newspaper, and thought that some commentary on curling, which is considered quite "exotic" where I live in Virginia (USA). I found your web site quite informative, and appreciate your attention to detail. I'm completely confused--but not surprised to find that curling, like most other sports, is extremely complex, and has many specific and difficult rules. I'll try to present some basics in my columm--and am in your debt for the help!
Marci		26.02.2006	19:03:44	Please explain the history and the goal of the game. You have a great site. The animations are helpful. Marci

Tom		26.02.2006	10:39:37	I might have enjoyed it if i knew what the heck was going on. I did not hear the annouccers give any explanation of how the game was played once. Would not give us any idea what was going on.
Heather		26.02.2006	10:05:46	I was absolutley inthralled with the curling in the olympics, the scoring just now made sense to me. Thank you so much for your very informative website. I would love to find out where I could get involved with learning and actually starting to play!
John Fenley	Charlotte, NC USA	26.02.2006	06:44:54	Very informative webpage. I have watched curling on the Olympics and have enjoyed it. I was not up to speed on the rules or the strategy and I wanted to know more. I found this through a search on Google. Thank you for a very informative site.

SG		25.02.2006	21:35:31	I didn't have the slightest idea of how a team scored a point until reading your website. Thanks.
Emory Pater		25.02.2006	20:50:22	Very good site. I know Curling well. My family has called me several times during the 06 Games and I decided to try to find them a BASIC site to help them rather than me spending a lot of time trying to explain the rules for them. I have sent this to several family members. I reasearched several sites and your's seemed to be the best for beginners. You might want to update "Stone" to "Rock" since they (as novices) thought the two were different. I guess that happened during the broadcasts as they continued to refer to the stones as rocks. I too call them rock and think most curleers do the same. Overall, the best site I found in explaining the basics. There are a few other terms that have changed slightly but nothing earth-shattering. GOOD JOB for the beginners !! Emory Pater

Edie	Milwaukee,WI	25.02.2006	18:49:00	Going through the animation helped immensely in my understanding of the game. Thanks!
Edie	Milwaukee, Wisconsin USA	25.02.2006	18:22:33	I understand it just a bit more. It seems one has to be exposed to curling at an early age. So many rules but scoring helped me understand better the object of the game which seems to place as many stones as near to the tee as possible. I still have not seen a game in which I understood when the stones are counted.
Alice	Moncton, N.B.	25.02.2006	17:25:57	Hello, I have just recently started to watch curling and was lost when the commentators would describe the play, I had no idea what they were talking about. Then I went to the internet and found your site. It is so informative and easy to understand! I can now watch curling and have some idea what is going on . Thank you so much for the great information on curling I am really enjoying watching the curling now,and I think it's all the more exciting since our Canadian men took the Gold at the Olympics!!!! Thanks again Alice Zane	Texas, USA	24.02.2006	18:56:45	Having heard of Curling but seeing it as a weird northern ice game I would never have a chance to play I dismissed it as just weird. But I must say that I have watched it during these Olympic games and I find it fascinating! It's like golf, billiards, and shuffle board on ice. I looked it up on the internet and found your website to be very informative. I hope to watch more of it, but unfortunately it does not always come on tv here except during the day and never shown at night when I might be able to see it more readily. So I hope to see more of it from time to time when I can. I will keep an eye on this website should I have any questions on this interesting sport. You know, it just isn't a bunch of guys sliding a heavy teapot across the ice!

David		24.02.2006	18:56:43	Very helpful website. Great job on the graphics. I have been watching the Olympic curling matches and find it interesting. But I was wondering why is it called curling? And what does it mean to curl?

Scott Domnauer (Yocardman)		24.02.2006	13:57:01	"(W)vei-ghets,(w)vas ist los?" (spelling?) Watching "Hogan's Heroes" is a close to learning German (OR Dutch for that matter) as it gets for me, and I don't think we had 'subtitles' on our TV set back then so I'm stuck with sounding it out phonetically! Thanks for the "head start". After looking at your "links" page and searching for a club in my area (SAN JOSE/SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA) I saw that there WASN'T one out here...yet!!! I guess that means I'll have to help START ONE! If there are others out here (and I'm sure there are NOW, after watching Torino) we'll have to get ourselves together right quickly if we want to DOMINATE in Vancouver in 4 years! (San Jose, CA Yocardman@cs.com). We're going to call ourselves the "Ice-Biters" if my vote carries weight!
Anita Page		24.02.2006	13:36:20	How thick is the ice in the Olympic's? Your explanation has been such a help to enjoying it. Anita
Scott Domnauer		24.02.2006	13:24:49	"Zer GUT, her kommandant!!!!" (?) (I learned SOME German phrases watching an old television comedy called "Hogan's Heroes" back in the late sixties!) Sandy Miles	Lincoln, NE, USA	24.02.2006	04:41:00	I am a student at Southeast Community College in Lincoln, NE. In an English Composition class I was asked to pick a topic to research. fleurfille		24.02.2006	03:46:30	Enlightening. The animation is both mesmerizing and instructive. I'm not sure I understand the scoring yet, but certainly understand more about the game. Thank you, and sorry not to speak Dutch.

David C. Daniels		23.02.2006	23:37:20	Thanks. I grew up in Detroit, just across the river from Windsor, Ont. I used to watch curling on Canadian TV every Saturday afternoon. I loved it, but did not understand the rules very well. Had not seen it in years until the Olympic coverage. I was very pleased to find your site with some explanations. My only suggestion would be to add a glossary. Curling seems to have a lot of slang and jargon that I am not always sure about.

Steve		23.02.2006	19:44:13	I completely enjoyed your web site and animation page. The one thing I would change on your animation page is a written explanation on what the shooter is doing to get the desired results. For example it looks like on the hit and stay and the hit and roll that they are doing the same thing at impact. What is the shooter doing to make one stay and one roll. Thanks so much for the wonderful web site. Steve
Mary D. Smith		23.02.2006	19:42:13	A very interesting and informational site. I enjoyed watching the curing during the Olympics and want to learn more about the game. Thanks

John Groff		23.02.2006	19:24:00	Thank you. Your site helped me with some questions about the Olympics John
Frank Lietz	Deutschland	23.02.2006	19:13:36	Hallo liebe Curling Freunde, ich vermisse bei diesen Regelbeschreibungen Aussagen zum Thema letzter Stein im End. Wann wechselt das Recht des Letzten Steins. Wer beginnt das Spiel, das heißt wer hat im ersten End den letzten Stein. Das ist sehr wichtig, da die Mannschaft mit dem letzten Stein ja einen kleinen Vorteil hat. schöne Grüße aus Haltern am See Frank
Stephen Russ		23.02.2006	19:11:27	Great site! I am watching the Olympics and using your site to understand the rules and terms. Curling is as exciting as the racers and skaters. Great animations that help a lot. I still have questions regarding the ice and brushing the ice. Thanks a lot. You are a talented designer.

Kay Campbell		23.02.2006	17:00:47	I enjoyed your website very much, especially the animated examples. I have a question about sweeping. It seems to me that sweeping the ice would roughen it, increasing the resistance and slowing the stone. How can sweeping reduce the friction? Thank you, Kay Campbell

Mary Iannacone	USA	22.02.2006	04:27:36	I Know nothing about curling, but feel if I build it, they will come. Looking for a partner to open up this field in New Jersey. I am not asking for investment, I am lookin to hire a person to advise and coordinate my possible facility. Expertise and enthusiasum is th only requirement. Can anyone out there see themselves in this position? I want to bring curling, which I find fascinating to the forefront of family fun. Maybe a new and much needed frontrunner to bowling. I have a dream and want to make it real. Contact me, be prepared to help with all that is necessary to build our field. It's an open field and I want to capture it. Respectfully, Mary

Rich		22.02.2006	02:27:39	Hi. I knew nothing about Curling before stumbling on your site. It is an excellent source of information and the animations are exceptional. I know a lot of work went into it and I just wanted to say "Thank You!" Best of luck Rich Petrelli
Alex Ruiz		22.02.2006	02:22:16	Great site, very educational and easy to understand. Most aspects were covered wonderfully. I am curious as to why the stone curves as much or as little as it does. If you would please, add that detail. The scoring section leaves some area of doubt as to the reason why the points are given. Thank you for the site, it has been very useful during these winter olympics.
John		22.02.2006	02:17:10	I have never watch Curling until this years Winters Olympics and have really enjoyed it. The animations helped me understand it better.

Kirk Ring	Virginia, USA	22.02.2006	02:10:12	Excellent examples/illustrations of the somewhat strange terms used in Curling. Many thanks for posting this site for casual observers who become fascinated by the sport. I only wish that there were curling rinks in Virginia (or are there?). Best wishes, and thanks again.

Marie		22.02.2006	01:54:20	Been watching olympic curling with no clue of how the game actually works. Your website is invaluable to those of us fascinated by the sport but "clueless" to all aspects of it.
Bobby Wilson		22.02.2006	01:42:53	Have watched on the olympics and have been fascinated and very interested, even though I live in ice free central florida

Susan Lang	United States	22.02.2006	01:35:04	Hello! Thank you for your efforts. I am watching the Olympics and wondered what is this curling about? You certainly have a lot of detail on your site, but I guess I was looking for a sentence or 2 as an introduction to the general intention of the game. How many on a team? Why all the chatting that everyone (or maybe not everyone!) can hear. Doesn't that give away one's strategy? Thanks! Susan F. Lang PS, "Lang" is my married name, with origins in Germany!
shanman	USA	22.02.2006	01:09:55	We are curling beginners and we appreciate your wonderful website that has now clued us into all of the curling rules. We can watch the Olympics and now understand this once elusive sport. Thanks

LLOYD BIZZELL	Keystone heights, fl.	21.02.2006	18:49:53	I fin this new sport very exciting, abd woul like to find out where it is played in florida so I can watch it played.It it a very fascinating and interesting sport
Susan		21.02.2006	18:22:48	I know NOTHING about curling....never saw it, never heard of it. Googled it because the term was mentioned in an article about the Olympics. I think you've done a good job with your website. However, I have one suggestion....for those of us who literally know NOTHING about the sport: Give us a written summary of the game as I am still very lost. It is very difficult to understand the whole of this game when 1. you've never seen it and 2. there are only links to individual aspects/plays. Example: Two teams take turns hitting "X" in order to "Y". If x happens, y loses turn to blah,blah, blah. Object is to have all you X in the Y. Know what I mean? Thanks
Cathy Cowherd		21.02.2006	17:59:06	what is that floor made of. I know to you this may seem like a silly question but on TV the floor looks like ice but the players are not using skates. what is the floor made of? and what type of shoes are they wearing?
eileen early	New York, USA	21.02.2006	17:54:03	i'm so glad to hear that people are 'confessing' that what they once thought was slow and boring, is in fact hypnoitic. Your website explains everything and the animation is just phenomiinal! Thankyou

Calli Stinchcomb	Stillwater, OK USA	20.02.2006	03:35:42	My Dad and I have been avid Olympics watchers for the 2006 Winter Olypics in Torino. We have been watching the men's curling and wondering how, for example, a team could have seven points when they didn't have any stones anywhere near the center. Now I know, after viewing the animation for rule 12(1)that scores are counted at the end of each "round." Thanks for a very helpful website!

Dave Owen		20.02.2006	01:51:45	Congratulations on your site. I know little about curling - except that a previous Canadian neighbor 'curled' when younger. It seems to me that the concept used in your site would be incredibly helpful to explain many sports. One in particular that I think would be most helpful would be soccer.

We receive canadian TV, but one has to figure out the rules and strategy for himself; no explanations are given. Since your animations are so beautiful, you should create animations of a few complete games to illustrate the strategy and richness of the game. Alles Gute!

Denise	California, USA	19.02.2006	16:24:25	I'm glued to curling during the Olympics. Maybe there will be more coverage throughout the year once the sport becomes more well known. (I'm sure it's more popular in other parts of the country.) The site is extremely helpful. I didn't know the objective or any of the rules until visiting the site. It would be great to have a search box for specific questions that we can't find answers to.

Ted		18.02.2006	22:36:32	I think there is a mistake in the text for the Free Guard Zone page. It says "not allowed to remove from play", when the text in the animation says "not allowed to be removed from play", which makes more sense. Thanks for the great site!

Franklin Eldridge	Nebraska - USA	18.02.2006	17:15:37	Your efforts are greatly appreciated. We enjoy watching the sport, but did not understand much of it.
Kimberly	USA: Cincinnati, Ohio	18.02.2006	17:08:23	Thanks for the comprehensive site on the basics. I've watched my first curling games in the Olympics and I'm captivated but couldn't figure out the structure of the game. This site was extremely helpful. However, some basics are still missing ... a diagram illustrating the entire playing field would be VERY helpful for clarity in reading the rules. Also, not clear on where the zone for scoring stones stops in the House. I teach, so I know its always a challenge to forget what you take for granted and think like someone who doesn't know anything ... this site is just missing that very basic know-nothing level but thank you so much for what is here. You made it easy to understand much better the game of curling.
Keith Galgot		18.02.2006	17:07:51	Nice job explaining the rules. Loved the animation. I have a question about pebbling. What is the mechanism that reduces the resistance between the stone and the ice, if friction is independent of area? - Keith
KATHY LONEY	Walla Walla, Washington	18.02.2006	17:02:44	Nice website. My husband has always liked to watch curling during the Olympics. It looks like something he'd be good doing, but there aren't many clubs in the United States. Thanks for the informative graphics.

Michael		18.02.2006	00:18:46	Thank goodness for your excellent website! I am drawn to this sport but have been quite confused with regard to the terms used and strategy of play. It is unfortunate that the television commentators ignore those of us who do not understand the game by failing to explain it. They are doing both a diservice to the viewer as well as the sport. Your website is outstanding and the use of moving graphics has taught me a lot in a short time. Thank you & keep up the good work. Michael P.S. How about a glossary?

Nancy Bahn		16.02.2006	18:53:04	Hello! I just wanted to tell you how much I have enjoyed the competition of Curling at the Olympics. Of course, I especially enjoy watching the American team. My question is: How much does the 'stone' weigh? And did the Curling teams have their stones shipped to Italy or did the Italian Olympic Committee furnish them? And if they were shipped, because it seems they would be a personal piece of equipment, were they transported by ship or by airplane? Thank you for answering these questions. N. Bahn

It was sort of lengthy to read all the rules to get to come to understand the game a little better. Thanks for taking the time to create it.

Stephen Wilkowski	USA	24.01.2006	20:28:28	Our group is using a Curling outing as a team buidling event. I googled your site to learn more about the game. We'll be playing at the Midland Curling Club in Midland, Michigan.
Jon Fistler		24.01.2006	01:43:55	Very good website on the basics of curling. I am a newcomer to the sport, just having moved to northern Minnesota, right on the Canadian border. I've been fascinated by curling for years and wanted to learn more about it. I have one small bit of constructive criticism. The animation on scoring was not clear. Perhaps it should say something about scoring, how only the stones from the one team that is closest to the tee. I learned that in the rules. Thanks again for the great website.
Kenneth Baird		23.01.2006	00:12:36	Hello my name is Kenneth Baird I have a strong interest in curling even though I have never played before and I am sixty one years young. I am really curious to know if there has ever been anyone with the last name of Baird who has been in the books of curling Thank You Kenneth Baird Heidy + Mike	Switzerland	13.12.2005	23:46:32	Wir finden diese Homepage super. Sie ist sehr lehrreich nicht nur für Anfänger. Danke für diese riesige Arbeit. Macht weiter so.

Gail Messina	USA	12.12.2005	00:08:18	This helped alot. I'm just starting to watch curling on TV. Why do the sweepers sweep until they get to the center line, then seem to stop. Or they don't sweep as quickly once they reach that line. Is this game kind of like marbles, where you want to get to the middle but also don't want to let your opponent get there first? It's a little confusing to me. Other than that, I think this page explained in very good detail about curling. Hope to enjoy it in the years to come.
Calysta	New Mexico, USA	11.12.2005	23:48:06	Thank you for taking the time to post this webpage. I have become fascinated with this sport, but could not for the life of me figure out the rules. Your pages are very comprehensive, and for that I thank you.

Christina		24.05.2005	17:27:00	Hi in your Hit and Stay section there is a few mistaks first you would normal do an inside turn not an outside turn and if you were going to take the rock out of play you would need a lot of force and If you through that much weight it wouldn't curl that much unless it was unbelievable curly ice and that's even pushing it with that ice you would probably do a peel

Ulrich C.	Kirchhain / Hessen / Deutschland	24.03.2005	15:57:04	Ich sehe mir z.Z. die Damen WM bei Eurosport an und bin daher auch auf diese Seite aufmerksam geworden. Dies ist wirklich eine super Seite, sehr informativ und auch durch die Animationen sehr verständlich. Weiter so. P.S. Viele spannende Spiele wie heute das Spiel Kanada-Norwegen
Alexandra G.	Deutschland /Hessen	24.03.2005	15:15:11	Diese Seite ist echt sehr informativ =) Bin schon seit längerem Fan dieser Sportart, ich würde sogar sofort mit Curling anfangen, wenn es hier irgendwo einen Verein gäbe, aber die anderen Vereine sind viel zu weit entfernt =(Warum gibt es nur so wenige Curling-Vereine in Deutschland? =(
Louis Schembri		24.03.2005	14:16:34	Great site! It's so informative and simple to understand especially for a beginner like me. I come from Malta and we do not play this game anywhere. However watching it on television, it seems like a great game which requires a lot of skill and concentration. Your wonderful site has now helped me to follow and understand the game much better.
Peter	Austria	24.03.2005	11:30:10	Bin schon länger Fan des Curlingsportes. Leider gibt es in Wien(Österreich keinen Club und meines Wissens keine Gelegenheit. Wenn hier noch wiener Curlinginteressierte sind, bitte bei mir melden.
Klaus Trapp	Castrop-Rauxel Deutschland	23.03.2005	23:25:50	Einfach nur allererste Sahne diese Seite.
Vogt Marcus	Liechtenstein	23.03.2005	17:36:09	Echt tolle Homepage. Wurde heute durch Eurosport darauf gestossen. Bin schon lange ein Fan von Curling, aber nur am TV. Selber habe ich erst einmal gespielt - und es war irre. Diese Page ist klasse und macht noch mehr Lust auf Curling. Leider haben wir in Liechtenstein keine Gelegenheit dazu.

Sandra	Deutschland Sachsen Dresden	22.03.2005	17:39:53	Hallo nette site finde die erklärungen hier ganz gut und die animationen verdeutlichen das nochmal sehr schön... Bin durch EUROSPORT (dank euch auch! ^^) auf die site gekommen. Mich würd auch mal interessieren wo man das spilen könnte is bei uns ja sicher nicht so einfach... fänd auch ein forum schön cu...
Charly	Österreich	22.03.2005	16:12:54	Hi! Ich bin seit Jahren begeisterter Curlingfan und schau' es mir im TV an, so oft es eben geht (Danke an EUROSPORT!!!!). Mein Kompliment für diese Homepage, auf der man als "beginner" einfach einen guten Überblick über die Regeln erhält. Besonders gut gefallen haben mir die Animationen, die einem einfach das Wichtigste klar erklären!
Tyler Furlotte		22.03.2005	00:51:06	I just went curling for the first time last week and I loved it. This site really helps with the rules and the terminology that I never knew. Thanks.

Alex	Deutschland Sachsen Dresden	21.03.2005	18:00:34	Hey Leute! Hab gerade Curling geguckt und der Moderator hat auf diese Seite verwiesen... Und außer das mich die hüpschen Mädels interessieren, die and der Weltmeisterschaft teilnehmen, interessiert mich auch die Sportart. Sie zieht mich irgendwie an, würde ich wirklich auch sehr gerne selber fabrizieren. Die web site is gut gemacht, was mir aber gleich am Anfang aufgefallen ist, ist das die Curlingsteine, die unter dem Text langsausen zu hell sind, so das sie beim lesen der gelben Schrift etwas stören, sonst aber eine gute Idee sind! Is ja aber nur ne Kleinigkeit und vielleicht schnell zu ändern. Grüße an alle! Dann lad ich ir mal den FlashFilm runter.
Sanjay Negi	Indian Curling Federation	21.03.2005	09:07:48	Hi, we are from indian curling.I just loved to surf your site.this is a great site especially to those people who are begineer in this field and the knowledge is fantastic well done you have done a great job keep it up. Kind regards Sanjay
Karla	Canada	17.03.2005	16:30:45	I love your site. It is very useful and very accurate from everything that I've read so far! Long the animations. However, I looked in your links and my curling club isn't listed. I don't know the address off hand, but I curl in Winnipeg Under the Elmwood Curling Club. We do have a site, unfortuneatly it's rather crappy. There are other sites within the city too, that I didn't notice whether a) they had sites up or B) whether they were listed. There's Rossmere Curling Club, Pembina Curling club, St. Vital Curling CLub (Where Jennifer Jones curls out of), East. St. Paul Curling CLub, West St. Paul Curling CLub---and That's all I can think of. Again, awesome site.
Mary Howarth	Michigan	15.03.2005	23:51:07	Thank you for a very complete explanation of Curling. We enjoy watching it on Canadian television, but they assume we know the rules.

Andrew	UK	04.03.2005	16:39:22	I am a complete curling beginner - thanks very much for the overview of the game, its rules and terminology... what I would really find useful is a quick guide to the "conventions" of the game, and tips for starting out. Thanks!

Roger Bruland		13.02.2005	20:21:47	Interesting sport. Your website has helped me in understanding the sport.
Mike	California	13.02.2005	02:45:53	What a wonderful site. I am a Canadian prairie boy that kinda grew up on this. Living in California now, I had tried, unsuccessfully (often spectacularly unsuccessfully) to explain the sport. I just send 'em here (and a couple of sites that explain the etiquette as well) Thank you so much
Bob Wilson	Dunrobin, Ontario, Canada	12.02.2005	00:11:23	Please contact me for any information on the Dunrobin Seniors Outdoor Curling Club mentioned in the note below.
Susan Bowes	Dunrobin, Ontario, Canada	12.02.2005	00:01:01	What a great website. The animations have certainly clarified many of the terms used in this sport. My husband and I enjoy outdoor curling on a frozen pond at our country home near Ottawa. We have gone from hosting occasional social matches with friends, to becoming the Dunrobin Seniors Outdoor Curling Club, a group of mostly retired friends and neighbours who play regularly - men on Wednesdays and Saturdays and mixed on Sundays (weather permitting). We started off with various types of home-made curling rocks and have progressed to "Little Rocks" a type of light weight rock made of epoxy, used by juniors and seniors. What a fun way to enjoy our Canadian winters. Anyone wanting to start their own informal club of outdoor curlers are welcome to contact our member in charge of public relations and equipment acquisition, Bob Wilson <bobwilson649@hotmail.com>
Denise	Germany	11.02.2005	19:26:18	I'm going to Canada next year in August. I read that the people are playing Curling there so I wanted to find out what it is. On this page I found a lot about it. But can you send me a short summary of everything so I know the MAIN things. So I can go to Canada knowing sth. about Curling, because I heard that it's their folksport. It would be very nice of you! Best greetings from Germany, Denise
Charles		11.02.2005	18:41:41	Excellent site! The animations really helped explain the nature of Curling. Now I can appreciate the sport that it is!

Graham		06.02.2005	00:55:41	You might want to add a definition for "Board" ie Backboard weight used for soft takeouts.
Mandy		04.02.2005	17:21:37	Thanks so much for your great site! I am Canadian and I haven't really curled before, only in school. I graduated from school last year. Well my friend wanted me to join the town's lady's bonspiel because someone else cancelled so I went to the practice and realized that I'd forgotten a lot, so I decided to check out your site. I love the animations! Thanks a bunch! I still don't think we'll win a game though! :P!
AG	Sask/Twin Cities	03.02.2005	04:30:37	Great site! This would be a "complete" explanation of the game to newcomers if you added info on the TEAM: 4 people, 2 rocks each, all players sweep, skip's ice position, etc. Good job!
Jennifer	Calgary, Alberta, Canada	31.01.2005	21:18:54	I love your website!! We have used it as a reference for our company curling bonspiel for two year's in a row now to help explain curling to the new staff. Keep up the good work!
Jeremy Bell		28.01.2005	05:42:56	Fantastic! I am going to play my first game next week and no idea about the game! Thanks to your brilliant diagrams I will feel so much more comfortable! Cheers! Jeremy Heath Foran		15.01.2005	03:47:30	Excellent Site. I'm new to curling so I appreciate everything. I would like to see a description of an in turn and an out turn as well. Thanks.

Carolyn Buerk	Seattle, WA	14.01.2005	04:16:24	Wow Great site! I am 11 years old and I am not that good at curling... a sport that I am expected to excel in because my uncles, Jason/Joel Larway, are skip and third of the best team in the USA. But your site really helped my technique, and I'm getting a lot better, thanks!
Laura Ladick	Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin	10.01.2005	02:15:02	Danke schoen!! I found your website very helpful for a lesson I have to teach in school. I just started curling last November and I am still learning the rules, myself. Keep up the good work!! Keep on "rockin!" Laura
JIM WHITE		04.01.2005	06:59:25	DUNKE SHANE, I LIVE IM MICHIGAN USA. TOMORROW IS MY TEAMS FIRST CURLING GAME EVER. WE ARE ALL OVER 50 AND HAVE ONLY PRACTICED TWICE IN THE LAST THREE YEARS. WE FORMED A NEW TEAM AND JOINED A LEAGUE THAT IS 100KM AWAY. YOUR WEB SITE GAVE ME SOME GOOD IDEAS. AU VIDESANE AND DUNKE, I VISITED GERMANY ONCE AND STILL REMEMBER HOW TO SAY "EIN BIER, BITTE" WHICH I THINK MEANS ONE BEER PLEASE. THANKS, JIM WHITE

Sarah McLean		23.12.2004	02:52:24	I just to say that your website was very helpful, as I was doing a project on curling, and I used alot of your information! Thanx!
Steffen Krenz	bayern	20.12.2004	14:55:54	servus, immer wieder schön die seiten anzuschauen. curling kam ja jetzt auch wieder auf eurosport, genial. grüße an holger höhne, oder hatte der nix mit den seiten hier zu tun??? grüße steffen
Brian Christeson	Berlin, New Hampshire, USA	20.12.2004	07:14:00	Good job on the animations - ausgezeichnet! They depict very well the effects curlers try to achieve. I do agree with Richard Robb and others: A site called "Curling Basics" should describe briefly the fundamentals, like the object of the game, scoring procedures, etc. Like RR I found the rules to be too detailed to be useful without a layman's introduction. Still - vielen dank'!

D Hutchinson		18.12.2004	18:31:13	This is a well constructed site with excellent animations. However, I have just started curling in the last week and would recommend a slight change in layout for the site. As a beginner seeking basic information I want the layout of the rink first, then the basic idea of the game and then the excellent animations you have created.
Jessi		13.12.2004	03:57:21	This website is very helpful to people who know very little about curling. It was very educational to some of my friends who know nothing about curling.
Herb	Canada	12.12.2004	19:21:57	Great job! Really useful for a new curler. Thanks for your work.
Joyce Cumbaa		12.12.2004	00:59:14	Saw the last part of curling on TV. Had seen more several years ago and was interested in seeing and learning more. Your website made it much clearer. Hope I can watch an entire game soon.
Jeff Rodgers		12.12.2004	00:17:54	Great Web site. I just finished watching the event on TV and found it very interesting. I enjoyed the Curling much more than the other events. I'd like to see more, but I don't think we have much available in Virginia.
Lisa Mallon	Long Island, New York, USA	11.12.2004	23:55:35	Thank you. We've been watching a curling competition on television, and have never really understood what the players were doing! Your website helps, and the animations are adorable.

Richard Robb	Belleville, Ontario, Canada	30.11.2004	05:08:53	I am going curling for the first time in about 2 weeks. That's why I came to your site. I was really hoping for a simplified set of rules to help me understand what I am doing and what the game is about. Don't you think a web site on the "Curling Basics" would have such a thing? I do. I checked out your link to curling rules but they were all too detailed and technical for a beginner.

Richard Huffman	Elkton, VA U.S.A.	03.01.2004	00:53:42	Hello, I very much appreciate your web site. My father and I have always enjoyed watching curling matches but never really understood the rules. Now, thanks to you, we have a better understanding of how curling is played. Thanks again, Richard
B. Gillen		30.12.2003	21:36:08	Hi. I found your website great. This is my third year curling and I am needing to improve my slide and my weight. I think that what you showed and explained was very good and it helped, but i still need a few pointers on my slides. I can't seem to get my foot and the rest of my body in a line for better balance. I am also having problems with my grip and holding my wrist up. If you have any suggestions please tell me. Also could you put some demonstrations your website as I think that I am not the only one having problems with these things. thank you

I am a member of the Golden Ears Winter Club in Maple Ridge, BC CANADA. Our club will be hosting the BC Provincial Ladies Scott Tournament of Hearts from January 20th-24th, 2004. If you wish to "watch" a play-by-play of the games, you can access our website at http://www.gewc.ca/scott . Hope you enjoy the event. Val

Mark		21.12.2003	13:00:44	Great site! Nicely done. I visited your US links and noticed that Milwaukee and Mankato links do not work. The explanations with graphics is a great help. Thanks! A curling fan. Mark.
John Wilson		19.12.2003	23:14:51	Excellent website, markus. congratulations. Your graphics are the best I have seen. The "Basics" should be a great tool for new curlers and non-curlers.They are clear and very true to life.Your fluency in English is awesomely good.I noted that the "draw raise" is more commonly called a "tap up" or "bump".

Matthias	Deutschland	14.04.2003	11:29:07	Hallo Leute.....fg Eure Seite ist echt Spitze ;-) Man kann viel lernen, obwohl die Kommentare im TV auch sehr aufschlussreich sind. Ich schaue dem Curling sehr gerne zu. Es ist ein sehr interessanter und schöner Sport. Es kommt auf Taktik und auf Genauigkeit an. Nicht wild drauf losschiessen, sondern genauestens überlegen und vorausdenken, wo man den nächsten Stein hinsetzt. Man kann bis weit über die 40zig diesen sensationellen Sport ausüben. Die Regeln sind sehr schnell kapiert und die englischen Fachbegriffe lernt man nach und nach. Die Spiele sind manchmal sehr Spannend. da kann es passieren, das der letzte Stein über das "End" entscheidet. Faszination und Anmut. Toller Sport. WWWWWWOOOOOWWW Viele Grüße aus Hessen. Miriam	Grevenbroich(Germany)	13.04.2003	13:12:05	Ein dickes Lob für eure tolle Seite. Die ist euch echt gelungen. Curling schaue ich mir seit etwa 3 Jahren im Fernsehen an. Zunächst habe ich gedacht: "Was ist das denn? Das soll eine Sportart sein? Was machen die denn mit den Besen?" Doch je öfter ich es mir angeschaut habe, desto besser habe ich Curling verstanden. Es fasziniert mich total! Ich finde diese Sportart tausendmal cooler als z.B. Fußball oder Tennis. Euer Lexikon ist eine große Hilfe für mich, sodass ich nun die Kommentatoren im Fernsehen besser verstehe und meine eigene Strategie entwickeln kann. Okay, das war`s für heute. Viele liebe Grüße aus Grevenbroich (Kreis Neuss) sendet euch Miriam (18).

Ich hoffe, daß der Sport endlich auch bei uns bekannter wird. Ich hätte so gerne was von der deutschen Meisterschaft gesehen.

Thomas	Kiel	11.04.2003	13:32:50	Sehr interessante Seite, besonders die Animationen sind echt gelungen; schade, dass Curling in Deutschland noch nicht so verbreitet ist, aber zur Zeit gibt es ja die spannenden Übertragungen bei Eurosport aus Kanada... Daher auch die Info über diese Seite. Und... ich bin tatsächlich der Erste im Gästebuch? Gibt es die Seite noch nicht so lange??

melody canterbury		07.03.2002	02:25:00	Thank you for this informative web page . Curling was new to me during the olympics, but now I have a somewhat better understanding.
Tom Atkins		07.03.2002	01:20:00	Terrific site-very informative on the sport of curling. I watched a lot during the Olympics and enjoyed it very much. I play a lot of Bocce Ball and see some similarities. Thank you.

Greg Gadd		06.03.2002	23:23:00	Im an Australian as before today, I had no idea what Curling was about. Now that I have looked at your animations and know better, Im just waiting for someone to ask me the question "What is Curling?" Boy, are they in for a shock answer. Many thanks and keep in touch. cya bobby		06.03.2002	21:11:00	curling was my favorite sport in the olympics...and im from california!!!
Chas		06.03.2002	18:49:00	This is good stuff! Well done! As a Canadian I sometimes watch "big" matches but now will have a better idea of the game and its raison detre...will check back often !
T. Demetra		06.03.2002	16:07:00	Great Site. Two Suggestions: A "Forward" button would be great to take you directly to the next animation. Now I click on the term I want to see. Then I click on the button to play it, then I have to click "back" or "home" to go to the next term. A "forward" button would be much faster and easier. Second suggestion: I would like to see a glossary of terms so I could click on it any time while watching the animations. Otherwise, think the site is great looking and very informative. Thanks for creating it.
Lance Rosenthal		06.03.2002	15:42:00	This is a gorgeous site. It will definitely become one of my favorite bookmarks. These are some of the best animations Ive seen on the web and really illuminate curling. Thanks.
Hribar		06.03.2002	15:13:00	great site. this years olympics really turned me on to the sport. your animations helped make things a lot clearer for me.

Guy Fawkes		24.02.2002	08:35:00	I like what I have seen of this sport. It is easy to mock, but after reading about the sport of curling I have gained a lot of respect for the people that play as it requires a lot of mental and physical effort. The animations explained everything so well. I learned a lot about curling and when I am next in a locale that has a place where I can try it, I will.
Jim		24.02.2002	01:33:00	Danke! A great site and a Good place to start!

Mary Fallahee		23.02.2002	20:14:00	I enjoyed this site and I really enjoyed watching the curling at the Olympics. Thank goodness for MSNBC or I would not have had the opportunity to enjoy this competiitiion. I hope to be able to learn more about curling.
Gerald		23.02.2002	19:24:00	Hallo, gelungene Seite, wirklich! Bin ganz erstaunt, daß die hier vom Club aus Düsseldorf ist. Habe mich mit Freunden schon immer gefragt, ob man den Sport auch mal so ausprobieren kann, ohne direkt Mitglied zu werden. Wir wären zu dritt und sehr interessiert. Gruß
Ies		23.02.2002	18:12:00	this is a good site for novices like myself who are still struggling to get to grips with the terminology so we can use it in practice - shame that there are people out there who chose to use sites like this inappropriately

Henry Broer		23.02.2002	17:08:00	Viel danke.. for this excellent site. Now I know more about the sport and how to interpret what is going on. I thought the commentators for the Olympics were very poor in explaining what was happening. An opportunity was missed to gain new fans.
ted hooven		23.02.2002	16:53:00	You have cleared up a great deal of confusion in my mind about the sport of curling. I watched the match between Canada and Norway and was impressed by the true sportsmanship exhibited by all contestants. Too bad the same sense of good manners cannot be transferred to other sports. Great web site!!!!

Lorri N.		23.02.2002	16:30:00	Thank you very much for your excellent explanations and moving-illustrations. I did not know ANYTHING about curling. Sonu		22.02.2002	17:07:00	It is a very helpful website regarding basic principles of curling. It would be a great if you try to tell the objective/motive of curling. ie. for example in soccer we play to goal against the other team. In curling, why we play it?
Peter Büschel		22.02.2002	15:57:00	Ich wußte bisher nicht, wie attraktiv curling ist, es ist ähnlich ästhetisch wie Eisschnellauf. Vielen Dank für die ausführlichen Erläuterungen zu curling, dadurch wird es noch interessanter.

Phyllis		16.02.2002	02:27:00	Nice site and great animations - they helped alot. What is the purpose of a corn brush? Is it the shape that determines the name?
David		16.02.2002	02:19:00	Thank you so much for setting up the animations. They are a great help in understanding this enthralling and extremely tense sport.
Jan Leventhal		16.02.2002	00:33:00	I love to watch Curling but am sorely difficient in just how it works. Was disappointed that you didnt go into details of the rules. But thanks anyway.
Hugh		15.02.2002	23:00:00	What a great help in understanding curling in the Olympics. I got hooked but knew little till I got to your site. One problem, however. The screen kept dropping back to German from English and I had to start over several times.

Robert Marker		14.02.2002	18:54:00	I have recently taken interest in curling with the olympic curling event taking place in my home town of Ogden, Ut. I didnt understand much of the game, but this web site has provided me with outstanding information. Now I at least have a basic idea of how the game is played as well as the rules.
Steve Sorensen		14.02.2002	17:19:00	With the recent Olympic coverage, I hope Curling will catch on more in the U.S.A. I am anxious to learn more details about the sport. As one of the commentators put it "Its like Chess on ice!"
denise gressmen		14.02.2002	13:44:00	I really learned a lot about curling from your page. We are going to an olympic curling competition and I knew nothing about it. Thank You
G. Stevens		14.02.2002	04:09:00	Neat site, but I would like to see a basic rundown of the "point of the game" somewhere on the home page. This sport is quite new to a large portion of the western world and a simple understanding of the sport would help me enjoy watching the sport much more.
Nancy		14.02.2002	03:00:00	Hi! Your site was useful, but it would be better if you made some mention of how curling is scored! BTW, "english" doesnt have a "c" in it! Thanks for letting me visit, I enjoyed it! Nancy from Canada :)

I know nothing about curling (coming from Arkansas, a fairly warm-weather state with only two year-round ice skating rinks in the entire state) and was curious about curling due to the Olympics. This is an excellent example of what a website explaining a sport should be. The animations are a great addition. Keep up the good work!!
Paula		12.02.2002	00:09:00	Thank you for your web site. I have watched curling without truly understanding what I was seeing. Now I know I will have the opportunity to watch with at least some knowledge of the game.

Marianne		08.02.2002	15:14:00	Preparing for my "topic-table" in my classroom, the topic being the Olympics of course, I was travelling the internet for information about curling, since this sport is new during this event. I found many links, but with poor information about the (aim of the) game. Untill ... I finally found yours. Although I did not want to spent a lot of time on the issue, it was a great pleasure to "walk", finally a long time, around yours. For content aswell as design of the site. Suggestion: a part of the site where one can find illustrations of the game-parts, playfield etc. I found it hard to find a nice picture of the stone for example (not even on a site of a curling-shop!) Also handy for children that make schoolpapers about the subject. Thank you. Greetings from Holland.

Heiko Schneebeck		13.12.2001	13:17:00	Hallo Markus, hallo Oliver, ich muss wirklich zu dieser Seite gratulieren. Ich wurde jüngst durch die Berichte über die Curling-EM im Fernseh auf Curling aufmerksam und Eure Seite und die hier enthaltenen Informationen sind ein echter Mehrwert, gerade wenn man sich diese Spiele anschaut, zu verstehen, wie diese Sportart genau funktioniert. Auch zu die downloadbare Flashanimation ist hervorragend gelungen. Allerdings habe ich auch eine Anmerkung zum Inhalt der downloadbaren Flashanimation. Auf der Seite "Ausrüstung -> der Stein" befindet sich ein Fehler. Dort steht an unterster Stelle, dass der Hohlschliff auf der unterseite des Steines vorhanden ist, "damit auch die Reibung möglichst gering gehalten wird." Dies ist so, physikalisch nicht ganz richtig, da die Reibungskraft F_r proportional nur zur Gewichtskraft ist, aber nicht zur Auflagefläche. Das heisst, die Reibung ist nur Abhängig vom Gewicht der Steine und nicht von der Form der Fläche mit der sie das Eis berühren. ($F_r = k * F_g$) Aber ansonsten kann ich nur gratulieren.
crown_odyssey		12.12.2001	21:10:00	Curling ist echt eine sehr interessante Sportart, die noch interessanter wird, wenn man sich etwas mit den Regeln auskennt bzw. wenn man einige Fachbegriffe kennt. Diese Seite trägt sehr stark zum Verständnis dieser Sportart bei. Die Seite ist gut gelungen, vorallem die Animationen !!!

Bastian Saarbourg		24.11.2001	23:38:00	Grosses Lob. Die Seite macht sich richtig gut. Da hat ja eine Menge Arbeit dringesteckt. Übrigens, es soll Curler geben, die T-Shirts, Polos, bestickt oder bedruckt benötigen. Nur keine Hemmungen. Wir können "fast" alles. Grüßle aus dem wilden Süden. Bastian :-)
Schommi		23.11.2001	22:15:00	Manchmal, lieber Markus, dauert es zwar ein paar Wochen, bis ich wieder mal "bei dir vorbeikomme", aber ich bin dann immer begeistert, was du auf die Beine stellst. Machst du eigentlich auch Kurse?!

Die ganze Sache wird, sobald es mir wieder möglich ist, auch von meiner Seite aus weiterverbreitet (www.broomslave.de) !!! Mach weiter so und bis bald mal auf dem Eis. Der "Broomslave"
Ingo Greese		13.08.2001	22:55:00	Hi @ everybody! Just wanted to add that this page is just great (congrats to Markus) and that I learned a lot about curling so far! Propably because of talking with Judith so much, too gg So, cYa some time! MfG, Ingo
Dennis Wilson		09.08.2001	00:34:00	Very Interesting. I have read about the game curling but had no idea what type of game it was. It is not played in the US (as far as I know). Id like to see it played. Are "stones" really balls of some sort? Does one team play from each end or do they both play from the same end? How many people are on a team? Is it an indoor or outdoor game? Obviously, its played on ice. ? I need to investigate it more thoroughly now that I know what they do in a curling rink!
the cosmic snake		04.08.2001	13:27:00	Habe mit grosser Freude die einfachen, gut verständlichen Erklärungen und Animationen studiert. In Zukunft kann ich jedem Anfänger oder Interessierten auf Deine Site verweisen.

Ich kann nur hoffen, daß viele Nicht-Curler oder Anfänger diese Seite finden und dem Zauber der schönsten aller Sportarten erliegen. Hoffe, wir sehn uns auf dem Eis... Liebe Grüße aus Mannheim ... Craig Martin		10.04.2001	15:10:00	Very good site. This is a great substitute for using ashtrays and beer bottles to explain terms to beginners.
Flemming Christensen		09.04.2001	20:18:00	What a great site. Fantastick use of Flash animations and a very intuitive curling instruction to the most common curling technics. I will add your website to our curling link database and spread the word about your site. Keep up the good work!
jürgen		08.04.2001	21:14:00	als anfänger, angeregt durch die gerade gesehenen Meisterschaften auf Eurosport, konnte ich mir durch eure sehr gute Seite ein überblick über die rules verschaffen. Danke, weiter so.
Reinhold Falter		08.04.2001	18:14:00	Eine gute Seite habt ihr da , besonders die Animationen sind gelungen. Ich mußte auch feststellen, das Curling eine ähnlichkeit mit Eisstockschießen hat. Leider kann man in unserer Region (Niederbayern) kein Curling ausüben.
Andre Perera		02.04.2001	06:10:00	Greetings form the Land of Enchantment (New Mexico)!! Really enjoyed your website! Would be helpful for beginners if you had a segment for Curling rules. Keep up the good work!

Rob LeVine		12.03.2001	03:25:00	You signed in at our homepage, so I thought I take a look at yours. Very nice. The graphics are fantastic! Im sure its great for novice curlers.
Terry Gerritsen		11.03.2001	02:02:00	Great site and great graphics, one suggestion is that North America still uses the 3-rock zone, but there is talk of change and be like the rest of the world and use the 4-rock zone.
robert		10.03.2001	22:55:00	Its a great website. I would like to recommend that you add in the site the basics in how to throw the rock, for example, how to hold, how to aim, when to let go, sweeping, etc.
Gail		05.03.2001	06:58:00	What a marvelous site. If I werent already an avid curler, I would become one after watching your terrific "animated curling terms" pages. I am going to recommend that our club webmaster include a link to your page. Thank you.

Marc de Roche (webredaktor@curling.ch)		18.02.2001	10:28:00	Da gibt es Leute, die stundenlang in der Kneipe einem Nichtcurler versuchen zu erklären, was ein Freeze ist... dabei könnten sie eine wunderbare Vorführung hier im Internet erleben. Einfach und klar. Mir gefallen die tanzenden Steine von Markus. Good Curling!
Oliver Axnick		12.02.2001	12:12:00	Markus, you have built a fantastic site to support Curling! People will be able to understand Curling and its fascination much easier with your animations! Thank you! Oli
